Mark Goines to become Chairman of the Board; Co-founder Chris Hulls to transition from Executive Chairman to Director

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Life360, Inc. (NASDAQ: LIF, ASX: 360), the provider of the market-leading family connection and safety mobile application, today announced the next step in its board evolution. Mark Goines, currently Lead Independent Director, will become Chairman of the Board. Life360 co-founder Chris Hulls will step down as Executive Chairman of the Board, beginning December 31, 2026. Hulls will remain on the Board as a Director and continue in his role with AI Labs.

The transition is the next step in the Company's succession efforts set in motion nearly three years ago and advanced in August 2025, when Lauren Antonoff was promoted to Chief Executive Officer and Hulls became Executive Chairman. The Company's strategy remains unchanged.

"We are fortunate to have our co-founder continue to serve on the Board and to keep working on AI on behalf of our members," said Mark Goines. "From the day I met Chris and invested back in 2009, it was clear Life360 had the opportunity to win. I'm excited to continue helping the team build for the future."
